

DIGITAL REPOSITORIES:

Navigating resources to locate archival and special collection images

The sessions will help attendees better serve patrons in locating archival and special collections resources and familiarize them with the navigations of these digital repositories. The presentation will begin by looking at digital collections and digital repositories: what they are and how they can be advantageous for end users. It will also include advice on how to use metadata as a means of navigation and how to determine copyright and re-use status of resources.

Presenter: Jennifer Palmentiero

Jennifer is the Digital Services Librarian at Southeastern NY Library resources Council where she administers the Council's digitalization service and the Hudson River Valley Heritage website (www.hrvj.org). Jennifer provides training and support to member organizations on all aspects of the digitalization process including project planning, scanning metadata and copyright considerations for all digital projects.

This is a special client populations workshop. Participants will receive 3 contact hours for attending.
